RIDER SERIES

At Oxford, we believe that life is better on two wheels. So the further we explore on two wheels, the better life gets.

Over the last 40 years, we've maintained an unwavering commitment to making the best motorcycle equipment accessible to as many people as possible.

True exploration is often reserved for the elite; those with the most resources, who can afford the most expensive kit and the most expensive bikes.

Yet we believe that deep down most riders have a wanderlust, a dream of going on an adventure, of taking exploration to the outer limits. So we set out to produce a product range that allows every rider to explore the world fearlessly.

The best roads are challenging and often the conditions are uncertain and variable.

Our Advanced Rider Series offers a better level of versatility to protect from the widest range of conditions.

This means we can ride our bikes harder, further and for longer through the WET, COLD and HEAT.

Our Advanced Rider Series makes adventure on bikes better, pushing the boundaries of innovation so that we can push the boundaries of exploration.

It enables us to...

The Hinterland utilizes next generation laminate technology, Trilaminate. Trilaminate construction leads to higher abrasion results, stronger seams and significantly better waterproof breathability ratings by incorporating our highest performing Dry2Dry™ laminated membrane.

Direct vents in the torso and forearms allow unrestricted airflow through adjustable YKK AquaGuard® zippers.

Conventional protective fabrics often add bulk and restrict movement, but by using Trilam Active we add targeted four-way stretch areas for increased comfort.

Ride Recommended, laminate jacket with Oxford Dry2Dry™ waterproof membrane and the advanced WarmDry™ thermally mapped removable liner.

As they say, there is no such thing as bad weather, just bad gear. Today's riding jackets are expected to be technically brilliant but that comes at a price. And laminate jackets appear at the top of that pile. Enter the new Oxford Mondial – technically brilliant but at a price that is within reach of all discerning motorcycle riders. In addition, it's lightweight, doesn't hold water in a downpour and dries out really quickly.

The jacket employs a laminate outer shell, incorporating Dry2Dry™ waterproof and breathable membrane bonded to a tough nylon construction. The advanced WarmDry™ thermally mapped removable liner is low-bulk but high-insulation providing comfort in cold weather conditions.

MONTREAL 4.0

It's all about the details

The outer material has been upgraded to Oxford's new HD polyester, which uses much more densely packed fibres to increase durability, abrasion and tear-resistance. This structure also makes the Montreal more flexible and lightweight – improving comfort and encouraging water to bead off more easily.

The critical impact zones of the shoulders and elbows have been reinforced with heavier duty materials and trim, all of which helps the Montreal to comfortably achieve a CE A rating, as well as a reassuring feel of quality.

A new Dry2Dry™ membrane, usually reserved for our most expensive riding gear, offers 10,000mm/ H₂O waterproofing and 20,000g/m²/24hrs breathability; this performance is up there with the highest performing laminates.

DAKAR DRY2DRY™ AIR 1.0

The heat can be almost as brutal when crawling through town as when crossing the Sahara, so the Dakar Air jacket has been designed to keep you cool regardless. Huge, full-length mesh panels (front, rear and down the arms) provide welcome airflow even at low speeds.

Equally, rain can ruin any journey, so the Dakar also offers a very special waterproofing solution: a removable lightweight liner which is fully waterproof, highly breathable and made from stretch materials with a mesh inner, so you don't even know it's there.

And because you could be riding flat-out on rough desert roads or weaving through slippery city streets, this comfort makes no concession to safety.

As well as huge adjustability to ensure a perfect fit and 360° reflective detailing for night-time visibility, the chassis is built from Oxford's toughest HD POLY. This is welded to reinforced overlays using hidden structure stitching to form a protective shell, which comfortably exceeds the CE AA standard.

your choice.

The Arizona jacket and pants are uniquely focused products, designed to deal with one specific challenge: heat.

This air mesh combo does away with every piece of material which could block airflow from reaching the areas of your body which suffer most in hot weather. This enables you to capitalise on the slightest movement of air to help cool your core and provides immense breathability.

Of course, this is all done without compromising on safety. Oxford's HD POLY creates a chassis with huge structural integrity and the garment comfortably exceeds CE level A.

Visibility at night is enhanced by 360° reflective detailing and, because you're likely to wear Original Approved denim with this jacket, there are hidden belt security loops so you can connect them together.

For Oxford's Approved Denim, material innovation was a priority; performance denim built specifically for life on two wheels. From new yarn and fibre technologies to new finishes and dyeing techniques.

After continuous testing, both in the lab and out on the road, we introduce Armourlite™ - highly durable denim that maintains a vintage look and softness; jeans you want to wear.

To do this, we worked with skilled weavers and warpers to include a polyamide fibre into the weave - a hard-wearing material originally developed by the military for parachute cords.

A two-way stretch was added to enhance mobility and comfort. We also included a quick dry technology which draws sweat and increases water repellency.

Style, comfort and CE AA certification all combine into a tidy single layer package: Oxford's Original Approved AA Legging.

Looking and feeling great shouldn't come at the cost of protection, and thanks to Oxford's Armourlite fabric, it doesn't have to. Armourlite technology offers a reassuring figure-hugging fit, thanks to the generous stretch functionality of the fabric.

Protection has been fully considered throughout: belt loops offer the option to add Oxford's Belt Connector, which can connect the leggings to any textile jacket within Oxford's range. Internal elements such as soft-touch Lycra protector pockets and flatlocked internal seam detailing feels great against your skin, but also adds technical performance to the garment. Flexible level 2 CE knee and hip protectors are also included as standard; whilst soft and comfortable during normal riding, they will harden upon impact to help disperse force.

Catering to all body shapes, these leggings are offered in sizing 6 -24 and in three different leg lengths.

Outstanding fit.
Approved performance.

FEATURES

- CE AA Certified (EN 17092-3:2020)
- For Oxford's Approved Denim, material innovation was a priority; performance denim built specifically for life on two wheels. From new yarn and fibre technologies to new finishes and dying techniques.
- After continuous testing, both in the lab and out on the road, we introduce Armourlite™ – highly durable denim that maintains a vintage look and softness; jeans you want to wear.
- To do this, we worked with skilled weavers and warpers to include a polyamide fibre into the weave – a hard-wearing material originally developed by the military for parachute cords.
- A two-way stretch was added to enhance mobility and comfort. We also included a quick dry technology which draws sweat and increases water repellency.
